Colored Selections Not Made.

Superintendent of Colored Schools Montgomery said this morning that the principals of the colored schools had been unable to compile a list of the officers as yet. He explained that many of the young men worked out after school hours, and that it was deemed best to go slow about the matter and thus prevent selecting some who would not be in a position to uphold their military obligations. It is believed, however, that the colored selections will be made in a few days.

WOULD DENY PIPE TO PRINCETON STUDENTS

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 5.—The rumor is going the rounds that the Y. M. C. A. of Princeton is planning to schedule a convention to meet here in Princeton next week. It will be an indignation meeting, designed to rouse the citizens against the sale of intoxicants in the town.

A temperance town alone will not suit the radicals behind this movement. They are planning even to put the ban on the use of tobacco in any form by the students. A plank in their platform will be the prohibition of all cigarette smoking and even the smoking of cornucopas will be frowned upon by the reformers.

The students ridicule the whole idea.

LESSONS IN BOXING FOR NEBRASKA CO-EDS

Young Ladies Will Be Introduced to Mystery of Upper-Cuts.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 5.—Co-eds of the Nebraska State University will be given instruction hereafter in boxing as well as other athletic exercises. The instruction they are to receive in the main part of self-defense will not, it is said, be of a superficial nature. It will be thorough and practical, introducing the young ladies to the mystery of the uppercut and the straight knockout and all the other deeper and darker mysteries of the ring.

The instruction is to be given with the object in view of building up and strengthening the bodies of the fair pupils and teaching them to defend themselves in case of need.

The co-eds are also to be taught to swim. Exercises in boxing and swimming will be required of the freshmen girls in connection with the two years' course in gymnastics.

HALES SUSPENDED BY PUBLIC PRINTER

Acting Foreman Ashion Upheld in the Johnson Case, Also.

Jacob G. Hales, the bookbinder who was suspended September 8 by Acting Foreman Ashion, of the bindery, for turning out a stack of books that failed to pass inspection, is suspended by the Public Printer for thirty days to date from September 8 and to pay the cost of the material and labor on the condemned books. This was the decision of the Public Printer today.

The suspension case of Ernest Johnson, the bookbinder who was suspended September 5, was also disposed of by the Public Printer. Johnson was suspended for thirty days, which expired last night, and he was ordered to report to work to-day.

Johnson was charged by a fellow-employee with interfering with and annoying the complainant and on this charge he was suspended by the acting foreman of the bindery. One of the rules of the office forbids an employee to interfere with or annoy a fellow-employee, and a violation of the rule may subject the offender to instant dismissal. Witnesses were examined by the Public Printer before he took action in the cases against Hales and Johnson.

ALLEGED VIOLATIONS OF EIGHT-HOUR LAW

During the past few weeks a number of complaints have reached the Department of Justice that the eight-hour law as applied to Government work done by contract is not being lived up to. With a view of strict enforcement of that law the Department of Justice has issued instructions to the special agents of the department to investigate and look into every case that comes under their notice and proceed at once against any contractor who is violating the law.
